

Moving out into the world, beyond the primary relationships of their family and caregivers, toddlers are gently introduced to their first learning experiences.

They begin school with the presence of a parent/caregiver in the classroom. As the children become more comfortable in their surroundings, our nurturing teachers help them ask for what they need and want; thereby encouraging and supporting each child's emerging self. A toddler's daily classroom experience is filled with stimulating materials, such as blocks, puzzles, paints, clay, and water play, in addition to group activities that include pets, snack, stories, gym, and songs. Parents and caregivers have the opportunity, firsthand, to learn about child development so that they may help their children through the varied ages and stages.

We also offer parenting workshops and family activities throughout the year. Email us to inquire further.
